HONGKONG, THUESDAY, VERLUARY 4, 1892 Trrical Women of China is the title of a little book by the late Miss A. C. Silford, recently published by Mesers Kelly and Walsh. Of the mature bird soons of the work a sufficientif good idea may be gathered from the following weplanators statement in the introduction; The origin of the Chinese work dates back near two thousand years, to law Hiang, a distinguished author of the Han dynasty. Az writton by him, it contained only a lew chapters, but it was a "reognised model of style." was enlarged by an author of the Ming dynasty and now contains three bundred and thirteen chapters, in four volumes, treating respectively of Woman's Virtues. Words, D. portuent and Employments

Whot being Safford and harnouf to do wente Bowdlarias fraischour reglumes and to take from them all that is essential to exhibit the Chinese ideas of what a woman's and frairing should and comfurnish . fa true picture the typical Chinese woman's life.' Shert. accounts, are given of the liver of famous women, Milustrative of allerthe. rirtues which from the Chinese point of view, are regarded as constituting the glory of the sax. These virtues are rogu d until July next. chiefly of a negative kind. The first duty. of a Chinese wife is to effice herself. She is expected to * reverence her husband as heaven and if his life is in danger she must not hositate to die for him. This. we are told, "is her simple duty." There is lington by a majority of 1,200 votes over a story of a peasant who, during a severe famine, was seized one day by some starving soldiers, who intended to make a him. His wife pleaded for him. My husband is very lean, she said, taking a very practical view of the situation; he will scarcely be a mouthlu for you. The experiment is judged to have been | The writer gays that the Sultan of Morocco abortive, owing to the timidity of the is incensed at the action of the foreign reoperator who was desirous of witnessing its presentatives resident in his dominions, explosive power. He is supposed to have struck the match, attempted to ignite the fuse and then to have taken to his heels at when all the facts are known, if they ever the Grat motter, and to have been afraid to pro.

FAILURE OF AN ITALIAN BANK failed for several millions of lire. Considerable excitement is prevailing, as the bank has been considered one of the most solvent in Italy, and smong the depositors were ton goes on to propound other embarrasmany leading business firms. The full ex- sing questions, Why he make, does tent of the failure is; as jut, uncertain, but England claim exemption from faxation on an investigation is being held. Signor Feniz has disappeared, and the authorities are inquiring for him in all directions. It is rumured that he has gone to Africa.

BRITISH OCCUPATION ADVOCATED. Cairo, Jan 12. - The Moyot, a poverful paper published in Cairo, which has hitherto been opposed to British occupation, now declares that it is grate ful for the peace and order that prevails under British in. fluores and expresses a hope that the occupy ion will be prolonged.

CONTINENTAL INFLUENCES IN ECYPT. London, Jan. 12 -A dispatch from Constantinople says that foreign influences. emanating from French and Russian anticen, have been brought to bear woon the Sultan to induce him not to confirm Abbas in the succession to his father, the Khodive. The German amban dir, De representatives, here been guilty of the Radowitz arged his Majosty to item his edict prompily, pointing out, that er mot porton bould be regarded by Abbas and his supporters with sevour whereas delay would allenate and provoke the young man who. sustained by the British, would inevitable become zuler of Egypta. The Sultan listened to this advice and issued the edict a suddenly that the opp sition was taken by surprism The French endoavoured to cover their surprise by President Carnot's message to the Sultan It appears the young Khedive had been warned from Vienna and London to avoid Stambout, and that was the reason that he took pasiage by the way of Trieste. He himself, is said to have expressed the determination, on hearing of his lather's death, not to fall like his mandfather into the hands of the Porte. It is reported that had Abbas gone to Constantinople he would have been detained until he had fully complied with all the demands

ANTI-CHINESE AGITATION. New York, Jan. 11.-The Central Labor. Union, at a largely attended meeting yesterday, in view of the fact that the not prohibiting the landing of Chinese in the United States would expire May 2 1892, adopted the following resolutions: Believing that the same law or more stringent laws should be enacted, as the Chinese are a menace to the American workingmen, degrading the morals of children and retarding the whools of commerce, and as the Chinese missionary societies, highbinders, and Six Companics. successful, this country would be lived by an influx of Chinese, whose only recommendation is a proclamation to work at such low wages that it would lower American labor to the level of seridom; therefore bo it resolved, that the Central Labor Union require our present representatives in congrest. to give their support, both by voto and voice, to any measure that may be presented. in congress leading to the exclusion of the Chinese; and that a petition be drawn up with suitable resolutions thereon by the citizens of New York and vicinity, and forwarded to our representatives in Washington City.' ...

THE INFLUENZA IN LORDON London, Jan. 10.—There is no abatement of the plague of influenza in Lundon, cases pouring in upon them. Matters are every hospital are stricken down with the disease and unable to perform their share of the increased work. Many of the students at Gay's Hospital too have fallen victims to the pravailing scourge. Private practitioners are also overwhelmed by the number of influenza cases to which they are summoned. The leading physicians, whose patients are of the class willing and even anxious to employ trained nurses, report it impossible to fill the demand for such attendance. Skilled nurses can command many times multiplied, all could obtain good places.

London, Jan. 10 -A sensatien has been caused by the publication of a letter from a gentleman, whose position gives him at opportunity for knowing the inside history of affairs in Morocco, and who hints at the probability of interesting revelations being made, as a result of the present imbrogliciin comection with the Tangier reballion. pspecially the British.
